Turin, December 20. N. S.

ON the 7th Inſtant his Royal Highneſs cauſed Te Deum to be Sung here for the Reduction of Aire. Monſieur Mellerade having receiv'd Orders to repair to Vienna, will ſet out from hence in a Day or two accordingly. His Inſtructions are to lay before his Imperial Majeſty a true Repreſentation of the State of Affairs, in relation to the Differences that have been ſo long on foot between the two Courts, and to endeavour at an Accommodation. Our Letters from France ſay, that part of the Troops deſign'd for Rouſſillon have been countermanded, and order'd to march into Guienne and ſome other neighbouring Provinces, to facilitate the raiſing of the Tenth Penny, and prevent the Diſorders they have reaſon to apprehend on that Account, the People in general ſeeming very averſe to that Tax. They continue to ſay, that the French are fitting out eighteen or twenty Men of War at Toulon, but they mention nothing certain as to their Force, or the time they are to put to Sea.

Copenhagen, December 23. N. S. The Differences between this Court and that of Gottorp, which the Commiſſioners at Hamburgh have been ſo long accommodating, are at length happily concluded here by the Count of Dernath, who was ſent hither for that purpoſe with the Character of Envoy Extraordinary from the Court of Gottorp. Accordingly the Ratifications of the Treaty between his Daniſh Majeſty and the Duke-Adminiſtrator were exchanged on the 20th Inſtant, and Orders were ſent that Night to Hamburgh, for the putting the laſt Hand to that Affair, by having the Concurrence of the Miniſters of the Guarantee to it. General Schultz is to ſet out this Week for Holſtein, where he is to Review the Troops that are quarter'd in that Dutchy, and thoſe that are in Jutland are to be review'd at the ſame time by Lieutenant-General Rantzau. They write from Cracow, that the Muſcovite Troops are filing off towards the Boriſthenes, and that all neceſſary Precautions are taken to ſecure the Frontiers againſt any ſudden Inſults from the Turks or Tartars. The Great Marſhal of the Crown is gone to view the Fortreſs of Kaminieck, and to provide it with all Things neceſſary for a vigorous Defence.

Berlin, December 27. N. S. General Fleming arrived here from Dantzick the 17th Inſtant, having his Pruſſian Majeſty's Paſsport, as well as that of King Auguſtus. He was accompanied hither by Lieutenant-General Bauditz, and ſeveral other Gentlemen belonging to the King of Poland's Court. On Monday laſt he continued his Journey to Dreſden, having been very well received and entertained during his ſtay here. General Bauditz ſet out the ſame time for Hamburgh, in order to ſettle ſome private Affairs in that Country, having formerly Commanded in the Duke of Holſtein's Troops in Flanders, before he was receiv'd into the Service of King Auguſtus. It was lately expected here, that a free Intercourſe would have been reſtor'd between this City and Dantzick, but his Majeſty having been inform'd that the Plague begins to appear again in that Place, and that it increaſeth daily in Pruſſia, a ſtop is put to the Orders that were iſſuing out for that purpoſe, and the Difficulties of coming from thence are again as great as ever. Several of the Privy-Council have been likewiſe order'd to aſſemble, and conſult with the College of Health the proper Meaſures that are to be taken to prevent the further encreaſe of it. King Auguſtus ſet out from Dantzick the 14th Inſtant, having juſt before his Departure receiv'd the Submiſſion of Monſieur Bronisk, Marſhal of the Confederacy of Warſaw, and heretofore a zealous Promoter of King Staniſlaus's Intereſt. The Queen thinking her ſelf well recover'd of her late Indiſpoſition, dined with his Majeſty in publick on Sunday laſt, ſince which ſhe has had a Relapſe, and is again confin'd to her Chamber. We have receiv'd repeated Advices of the Rupture between the Turks and Muſcovites, and we hear the Swedes in Pomerania have receiv'd Orders to hold themſelves in a readineſs to March upon a ſhort warning.

Bruſſels, January 5. N. S. Our Letters from Paris of the 2d Inſtant tell us, the Court had received advice that Count Staremberg arrived the 18th of December with his Army at Daroca, twelve Leagues from Saragoſſa, thro' which Place it was thought he would purſue his March towards Catalonia. The Duke of Vendome was advanced with his Forces to Cifuentes on the 12th, but it was thought he would not be able to proceed any farther for want of Proviſions. Theſe Letters add, that his Catholick Majeſty having left the Army ſome Days before the Battel, arriv'd on the 17th with fifteen hundred Men at Barcelona, where Orders were given for the fitting out ſeveral Tranſports that were to fetch all the Regular Troops that could be ſpared from Port Mahon and Sardinia. The Chevalier de Luxemburgh is expected to Morrow at Valenciennes, where ſeveral Engineers are arriv'd, and have Orders to Repair and Augment the Fortifications of that Place. They write from Compiegne, that the late Elector of Bavaria is ſhortly to make a Journey to Paris, from whence he will come to Namur, where Preparations are making for his Reception and Reſidence there this Winter.

Hague, January 6. N. S. Our Letters of the 23d of December from St. Sebaſtian adviſe, that the Duke of Anjou loſt a great many of his Men at Brihuega, before he could oblige the Allies to ſurrender, and that his Loſs was much more conſiderable in the general Engagement that follow'd ſoon after. Our Advices from thence differ very much from thoſe we receive immediately from Paris, and we are not without hopes that the French have exaggerated their Accounts in many Particulars. They write from Paris, that an Expreſs
